A good Heater for winter. You may also need a good Range. We have them at bargain prices.

How about a Gasoline Lamp or Lantern; or, better still, a new Lister Electric Lighting Plant? Just as well be up to date as not.

Perhaps you would be interested in a PIPELESS FURNACE.

They certainly are worth their weight in gold. They save the price of themselves in fuel in one year, and they are clean and convenient, and also they give an even heat in all corners of the house. Just come in and ask for information and cuts and see for yourself. The prices are so much lower than an old-style furnace that you can't afford to pass them up.

One Good Time.

The popular dance at Comet on Friday night drew a large crowd.

In fact, the crowd was so great that an overflow meeting was held on the grounds, when a program of outdoor sports was indulged in, including several mixed events, and which attracted considerable attention.

The intimation was made Saturday morning that the finals in the mixed events would be run off in Town that evening, and a referee was appointed, but nothing was pulled off yet.

Great interest is being manifested thruout the countryside as to the date of the next public affair at Comet Schoolhouse.

STONY PLAIN CONSOLIDATED SCHOOL DISTRICT.

EVENING CLASSES for adults will be opened in the School on MONDAY, 21st NOVEMBER, at 8 p.m., when the Trustees hope there will be a large enrolment. James Malloch, Secretary.

Why the Low Price.

To those farmers who are right-complaining about the low prices offered for their produce, the cheerful news came, last week, that the terminals at the head of the lakes would probably be glutted with grain about November 15 and—unable to handle anything further. A million and a half bushels arrived there last week more than were shipped out, and this left over thirty million bushels in store. Stretched to the utmost, the elevators there cannot take more than forty-eight million bushels, and this would be taken up in less than three weeks from Nov. 1. There is talk of securing a fleet of steamers to go to Port Arthur, lie up for the winter, and take on the surplus of grain from the elevators. With the scanty demand for wheat for export, the situation has never looked so serious at this season of the year so far as storage is concerned.

Reduce The Expenditures

The public debt of Canada is seven to eight times what it was seven years ago, and the great bulk of this enormous increase in debt represents money borrowed at a much higher rate of interest than this Dominion was called upon to pay prior to 1914. The result is that Canada's annual interest charges are now almost, if not quite, equal to the total revenue and expenditure of the Dominion a comparatively few years ago.

In addition to this tremendous drain upon the revenues of the country, Canada has a national railway system which is operating at a loss of more than a million dollars a week. Sir Joseph Flavelle, now chief of the Canadian National Railways directorate, declared a few weeks ago that the loss for 1921 would be between $47,000,000 and $75,000,000. He added that the system would continue to lose money and he estimated that it would be from three to five years before it could even pay operating expenses, and that it might be ten years before interest charges as well could be covered by earnings.

Canada also has today an extensive Government Merchant Marine which is operating at a loss, with many vessels tied up idle in harbors, and the capital value of the ships enormously depreciated as compared with their original cost.

Coupled with these facts the country is faced with a declining revenue from Customs occasioned by decreased world trade, and the decreased buying power of the Canadian people.

Faced with such a situation in his personal business, what would a keen financier, manufacturer, or business man do? What, in fact, do such men do when they find liabilities and debts piling up? There is only one answer: They cut out every item of expenditure they possibly can; they stop expenditures on new ventures unless they are of an immediate revenue and profit producing character; they throw all their skill and energy into bringing their expenditure within the limits of their revenues, and rigidly refrain from incurring any new liabilities. In a word, they safeguard all their resources and devote careful attention to the strengthening of their credit.

And surely that long experience has taught the keen financier and commercial magnate to be good business, is equally good business for the nation. But is Canada profiting by the lessons of such experience? It would seem to be necessary to record a negative answer.

In the press reports we still read of contracts being awarded for great works, such as drydocks for the Pacific Coast, to cost millions of dollars. Reports of the launchings of new ships for the Government Merchant Marine still appear in print although it is an acknowledged fact that there is now a surplus of world shipping and those now in commission are losing money. Only the other day announcement was made that it had been decided to retire the building of wooden ships on the Pacific Coast.

With declining business and falling revenues, a business man loses no time in decreasing his staff; but in Canada our Governments continue to pay salaries to a top-heavy civil service, employing two and three men, or women, where one would be sufficient for the work demanding attention.

At a time—three years after the close of the war—when Canada should be beginning to gradually reduce the great debt created by the war, the appalling fact is that the national debt is still increasing, little or no attempt is made to restrict expenditures, and certainly no truly courageous effort is made to meet the needs of an exceedingly serious situation.

The inevitable result is that taxation is not only heavier than ever before known in this Dominion, but it is increasing as it is bound to increase with every addition to the national debt, and as it must continue to increase until a vigorous and really effective attempt is made to stop all unnecessary expenditures, eliminate all waste and extravagance, and reduce the total of all national expenditures to a figure, not only within the revenue, but which will produce a surplus to apply in the reduction of the existing debt.

This is not a political article in a partisan sense. The situation we have outlined in regard to the Dominion is more or less true in many of the provinces and municipalities. The debt of Ontario has been largely increased, while recent figures show that the gross debt of the City of Toronto was increased by nearly $26,000,000 between January 1 and September 30 of this year.

In view of present world conditions, this tendency to add to national, provincial and municipal debts is all wrong. It is time the people, who must bear the burden and who will be the chief sufferers in the long run if a halt is not soon called, must emphatically demand a return to sanity and the exercise of the same prudence in the management of public business affairs that the great majority of them insist upon in the handling of their private affairs.

French Soldier Will Wear Khaki But Not Until Stock of Horizon Blue Is Exhausted.

Horizon blue will be replaced by khaki as the color of the uniforms worn by French officers and soldiers, under a decision reached by the superior war council. The uniform of the French army will in future be similar in color to those of the British army.

The order for the change in the uniforms of the French army will not immediately come into effect, but will be operative when the present stocks of horizon blue cloth are exhausted. These stocks, it is said at the ministry of war, are sufficient to last for ten years.

Select Laxative Medicine With Great Care

In debility and weakness, medicine should be mild and far-reaching. Many pills and purgatives are too hard, are drastic instead of curative. Excessive action is always followed by depression, and knowing this Dr. Hamilton devised his pills of Mandarins and Blue cloth are exhausted. These stocks, it is said at the ministry of war, are sufficient to last for ten years.

Dr. Hamilton's Pills eliminate poisons from the body, thus do they restore cleanliness to the bowels, and they renew health and strength. To keep your system in healthy good working order, regulate it with Dr. Hamilton's Pills, 25c all dealers or The Catarthone Co., Montreal.

STERN REMINDERS OF RHEUMATISM

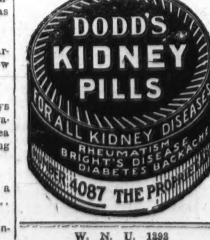

The Trouble Must be Treated Through the Blood.

Every rheumatic sufferer should realize that rheumatism is rooted in the blood and that to get rid of it, it must be treated through the blood. The old belief that rheumatism was caused by cold, damp weather, is now exploded. Such weather conditions may start the trouble, but it is not the cause of the rheumatism. Mr. F. J. MacPherson, R.R. No. 5, Cardigan, P.E.I., says: "About three years ago I was attacked with rheumatism. I began taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and soon the trouble disappeared and I am in better health than before." I also know of an old lady acquaintance who was badly crippled with rheumatism in her arms and legs, and who suffered very much. She, too, took Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and is now able to do her housework. I tell you this in the hope it may be of benefit to some other sufferer."

You can procure Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine or they will be sent you by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by writing direct to "The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont."

Biggest Thing Of It's Kind Ever Seen In New York Says Druggist

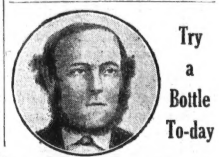

The fact that 625,000 bottles of Tanlac have been sold in the State of New York since its introduction there less than one year ago, is a big business item that will attract unusual attention throughout the entire East, for nothing like it has ever happened before. It breaks all records.

Mr. George B. Evans, manager of the Gibson-Shaw Company, the well-known wholesale druggists, with branches in Albany, Buffalo, Rochester and Syracuse, recently announced that the preparation was now selling in their trade territories alone at the phenomenal rate of approximately 500,000 bottles a year.

"If the present rate continues," said Mr. Evans, "this State alone will probably require considerably over 750,000 bottles a year. This is a tremendous figure, but I am really conservative in making this statement."

Tanlac is sold by leading druggists everywhere.

Discovery of Borax

Preservative Power Discovered by Prospector in Yellowstone Park.

The wonderful preservative power of borax were first discovered in Yellowstone Park, Wyoming. A wandering prospector in that desolate though picturesque region came across the body of a horse, which although it must have died long before, was perfectly whole and sweet. Looking around for an explanation of the phenomenon, he found that the animal was covered with a layer of fine dust, which proved to be borax. He saw the commercial value of his discovery and sold the secret to a large packing firm in Chicago.

B.C. Box Factories Busy

Total Output For 1921 Will Be 300,000 Packages

The output of the box factories at Wyndland and Canyon City this year is more than double that of 1920 and fifty per cent. greater than any previous year's. Of apple boxes alone about 150,000 have been made, some of them going to packing stations in the Okanagan while all the local requirements have been supplied. Crates and boxes for all the produce of the districts, which includes apples, pears, plums, peaches, cucumber, tomatoes, are made in large quantities at these factories, whose total output this year will be at least 300,000 packages.

Hon. Frank Oliver Chosen.

At the Liberal Convention in Edmonton last week Hon. Frank Oliver was chosen to contest West Edmonton in the interests of the Liberal Party. Mr. Oliver was nominated by Hon. C. Stewart, who said that never in the history of Canada were strong and true men needed in the same way as they are today. He stated his belief that Mr. Oliver could represent them in a way that no other man at this time could.

In reply to a call for a speech, Mr. Oliver said the great need at the present time was a leadership that would take us in other directions from the way we have been traveling during the past few years; and stated that the principles of Liberalism applied to conditions as we now found them in our country was the one solution of the national problem.

Liberalism was the rule of the majority with justice to the minority, said Mr. Oliver; and this was what the Liberal party proposed to stand for before the people of Canada in the coming election.

The people were looking to the development of the West and North for the progress that would help us out of the conditions of unemployment and lack of business from which we were now suffering.

Referring to Mr. Crerar's party, Mr. Oliver said that while many of them may have been Liberals at one time, they were now advocating a system of class rule which the Liberals could not agree.

Kennedy is U. F. Candidate.

At the West Edmonton U.F.A. Convention last week, Candidate Manson offered to withdraw altogether if his opponent, George Bevington, would do likewise.

Secretary Finnmore declared that the suggestion was the one way by which the breach which had been brought about, could be closed.

His speech met with some enthusiasm, a large proportion of the delegates seemed to favor an absolutely new man being put in the field, but some dissenting voices were heard.

When the proceedings were resumed on the following day, the assemblage succeeded in accomplishing in a few hours the full object of the Convention.

Starting with a field of 7 candidates in nomination, the number dwindled until when the vote was cast all but three—the leaders of the two factions, Bevington and Manson, and D. M. Kennedy, M. L. A. for Peace River, remained.

It was felt that the only means of filling the breach between the divided house was to nominate a third party, and Kennedy received the nomination by a good majority on the second count.

On the result becoming known, Candidate Kennedy was given a hearty reception. In a brief speech he thanked the delegates for the honor they had conferred upon him. Mr. Manson then moved that Mr. Kennedy's nomination be made unanimous.

Geo. Bevington then made a lengthy address. In the course of which he modestly admitted that he had probably done more for the Farmer cause at the Provincial election than any other fifty men, and he was prepared to do every bit as much to put in Kennedy.

A motion passed by which every voter had to come up to the table on his name being called and cast his ballot alone.

Before the vote was taken each candidate was allowed ten minutes in which to make a speech, when each of these made declarations along the usual lines, and pledged himself and his energies to the cause. Each was given a good hearing, but Kennedy's remarks seemed to have made the best impression on the delegates.

It was generally felt by the majority present that a straight fight between Manson and Bevington would prove exceedingly dangerous to the chances of the party, says the Journal; while a crowded field would mean either of the rival leaders' forces getting the nomination for their man and leaving the Farmer Party in its former divided state.

Premier Greenfield Gets a Seat

With the selection of D. M. Kennedy as the Farmer candidate in this constituency, a vacancy in the Provincial Legislature has been created which will provide Premier Greenfield with a candidature at the coming bye-election. Following the announcement, writs will issue at once for the election.

Re G. T. Fire at Gainford.

A case against the Grand Trunk Railway was tried in the Supreme Court in Edmonton last week, when Kynoch, and Matheson, sued the company for loss of goods freighted over the company's line and stored in a shack near Gainford station in the absence of proper storage facilities at the station itself, were destroyed by fire caused by sparks from the company's engines. It was shown that the company had used all diligence and all proper precautions in the employment of spark-preventing equipment on their engines, and the jury could not agree on a verdict. Counsel for plaintiff asked for a new trial but his lordship exercised his prerogative and dismissed his action with costs.

When your ears ring, your head aches, and you seem slightly hard of hearing, beware of Catarrh. Mr. J. A. Hamill, writing from Greenmont, P.I., was similarly troubled, and writes: "No one could have worse Catarrh than I had for years. It caused partial deafness, had fast upon my stomach, made me sick all over. 'Catarrhazone' cleared my nostrils, stopped the cough and gave me relief. I feel in my breathing organs. I am now absolutely well thanks to Catarrhazone." Nothing so certain as a Catarrhazone Inhaler to strengthen a weak throat, to rid you of Bronchitis, to drive out Catarrh, coughs and colds. Sold everywhere, 25c, 50c and one dollar for complete two months treatment. Dealers, The Catarrhazone Co., Montreal.

"Oh, that's not far," he said. "Can you ride?"

"Everybody here rides horseback. It's the standard means of locomotion. And the women ride astride. I was a bit shocked at first, but soon got used to it. But twenty-five miles is different from a romp round the pasture-field, so I said I was afraid not."

"Arthur's coming down with the buckboard," remarked the other man. "I passed him on the trail as I came in."

"Sure enough, a little later Arthur himself drew up at the hotel. I wouldn't have known him, but one of the young men pointed him out, and it would have done you good to see how he received me. 'And you are Jack and Mary's daughter?' he said, taking both my hands in his, and holding me at arm's length for a moment. Then, before I knew it, he had drawn me up and kissed me. But I didn't care. All of a sudden it seemed to me that I had found a real father. It seems hard to say it, but that is how I felt."

"Well, he just couldn't keep away from me all evening. He showed me with questions about you and father, which I answered as well as I could, but soon found I couldn't keep my secret, so I just up and told him all. He was very grave, but not cross. 'You need time to think things over, and to get a right perspective,' he said, 'and our home will be yours until you do.'"

Indoor Life

Spending more time indoors makes women far more subject to constipation than men.

The liver becomes sluggish and torpid, the bowels constipated and the system poisoned by impurities.

If you would get away from the myriads of ills which result from constipation, it is only necessary to use Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

The benefits from their use are as lasting as they are prompt and certain.

Mrs. John Barry, 18 St. Amable Street, Quebec, Que., writes:

"This is to certify that I was troubled for years with constipation and tried all kinds of medicines without relief. At last my husband suggested that I try Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. I did so, and must say that they have given me more relief than all the medicine I have taken during the last fifteen years. I may also add that I have used Dr. Chase's Ointment for piles with excellent results."

W. N. U. 1593

"We drove home the next day, up a wonderful river valley, deep into the heart of the foothills, with the blue mountains always beckoning and receding before us. Mrs. Arthur was as surprised and delighted as he had been, and I won't try to tell you all the things she said to me. She cried a little, too, and I'm afraid I could not help her a bit. You know the Arthur's had their little girl before they left Manitoba, and they have no other children. They both seemed very hungry."

"There's nothing so very fine about their home, except the spirit that's inside it. I can't describe it, but it's there—a certain intangible way of doing things, a sense that they have made work their servant instead of their master. And still they're certainly not lazy, and they've accomplished more than we have. When they left Manitoba in the early days, discouraged with successive frosts, they came right over into the foothills with their few head of stock. Now their cattle are numbered in thousands, and they have about a township of land, and still they seem to live for the pure happiness they find in life, and only the things of property as a secondary consideration."

"Now I really must close. Mrs. Arthur sends a note, and I'm quite sure it's an invitation. Oh, mother, what could be lovelier? Now don't say you can't. Father has plenty of money; let him hire a housekeeper for a while. The change will do him good."

"Love to you dearest, and to Allan, if he still thinks of me."

Beulah.

"P.S.—I forgot to mention that Jim Travers left Plainville on the same train as I did. He could hardly be here his eyes when he saw me there. I told him I was going West on a visit, but I don't know how much he guessed. Said he was going West himself to take up land, but he wanted to call on some friends first, and he got off at the stations near Plainville. Between you and me, I believe he changed his plan so that the incident—our being on the train together, you know—could not be misunderstood if the neighbors got to know of it. It would be just like him to do that."

With Beulah's letter was a short but earnest note from Lillian Arthur, assuring the mother of her daughter's welfare, and pressing an invitation to spend the autumn in the glorious scenery and weather of the foothill country. Mary Harris read both letters over again, with frequent rubbing of her glasses. Love for her daughter, desire to see her old friend once more, and growing dissatisfaction with conditions at home, all combined to give weight to the invitation so earnestly extended. "If I only could!" she said to herself. "If I only could! But it would cost so much."

The dinner was late that day, and Harris was in worse humour than usual. He had just broken a plough beam, which meant an afternoon's delay, and some dollars of expense. When he had started his meal his wife laid the full envelope before him. A letter from Beulah," she said.

Without a word he rose from the table, took the letter in his hand, and thrust it into the kitchen range, where blue flame slowly cut round the envelope; the pages began to curl like dry leaves in autumn, and presently the withered ghost of the missive shrank away in the dull glare of the coal fire behind.

CHAPTER XI.

The Price of "Success."

At last the ploughing was finished, and, although the rich smell of wheat in the milk filled the air, it still would be almost a month before the ripening crops were ready for the binder. Harris felt that he could now allow himself a breathing spell, and that the opportunity to investigate the rich lands of the Farther West was at hand. Many nights, while Mary milked the cows, he had walked over to Riles', and the two had discussed their forlorn venture until they had grown almost enthusiastic over it. Riles, it must be said, was the leading spirit in the movement; although already possessed of sufficient land and means to keep him in comfort through his advancing years, the possibility of greater wealth, and particularly of wealth to be had without corresponding effort, was a lure altogether irresistible. And Harris fell in with the plan readily enough. A quarter of a century having elapsed since his former homesteading, he was now eligible again to file on a free Government land; Allan could do the same, and by taking advantage of the purchase of scrip, it was possible to still further increase their holdings. In addition to all this, Riles had unfolded a scheme for staking two or three others on free homestead land. It would be necessary, of course, to provide them with "grub" and a small trade during the three years required to prove up, but in consideration of these benefactions the titles to the land, when secured, would be promptly transferred to Riles and Harris. This was strictly against the law, but the two pioneers felt no sense of crime or shame for their plans, but rather congratulated themselves upon their cunning though by no means original scheme to evade the regulations.

Harris found the task of disclosing his intentions to his wife more unpleasant than he would have supposed, and it took him some days to make up his mind to broach the subject. He felt that he was doing what was for the best, and that his business judgment in the matter could hardly be challenged; and yet he had an uncomfortable feeling that his wife would not fall in with his plans. That

This famous balm keeps the skin smooth, healthy and flexible under most trying conditions. Zam-Buk's pure herbal essences are so highly refined that the pores and tissues absorb them readily. Miss H. Strope, of East Hamford, N.S., writes:—"My hands bleed and are so painfully cracked that I dare not put them in water. Zam-Buk caused smarting pain and sores to quickly disappear and I continued to use it until my hands were thoroughly healed."

Mrs. A. Lepard, of Beaverdale, Ont., writes:—"Where other remedies all failed, Zam-Buk secured me of chilblains. It speedily ended the itching irritation, drew out the inflammation and healed perfectly." of course, would not be allowed to affect his plans; since Beulah's departure nothing but the most formal conversation had taken place in her household; yet it would certainly be easier for him if Mary should give her encouragement to his undertaking. He felt that he was entitled to this, for was it not for her that he was making the sacrifice? Was not all his labours directed toward increasing her comfort against the rainy day? And yet instinctively he felt that she would oppose him.

It was the evening of a long day in July, when very much to Mary's surprise her husband took the handle of the cream separator from her. To the sad-hearted woman it seemed that the breach was at length beginning to heal, and that happiness would shortly return to their hearthside. Below the din of the separator she actually found herself humming an old love-song of the 'eighties.

But her happiness was of short duration. When the milk had been run through, and the noise of the whirling bowl no longer prevented conversation, Harris immediately got down to business.

"Allan and me will be leaving for the West in a day or two," he said. "I suppose you can get along all right for a few weeks until harvest. Bill (the hired man) will be here."

In an instant she saw the motive behind his apparent kindness, and the hopes she had just entertained only deepened the flood of resentment which swept over them. But she answered quietly and without apparent emotion: "That's unfortunate, as I was planning for a little trip myself."

"You?" he exclaimed. "You planning a trip? Where in the world do you want to go?" Such a thing as Mary going on a trip, accompanied by herself, was unheard-of and unthinkable.

300 R.

"Yes, I thought I would take a little trip," she continued. "I've been working here pretty hard for something over twenty-five years, and you may say I've never been off in the place. A bit of a holiday shouldn't do me any harm."

"Where do you think of going?" he demanded, a sudden suspicion arising in his mind. "Goin' to visit Jim and Beulah?"

"I think you might at least be fair to Beulah," she retorted. "If you had read her letter, instead of putting it in the stove, you would have known better."

"I ain't interested in anything," Beulah may have to say, and any other letters that fall into my hands will go in the same direction. And what's more, she's not goin' to have a visit from any member of this family at the present time. I'm goin' out West to take up land, and Allan's goin' with me. It ain't fair or reasonable for you to try to upset our plans by a notion of this kind."

"It isn't a notion, John. It's a resolve. If you are loath to take up more land, with more work and more worry, why go ahead, but remember this: when you're out there, you'll have to make one home in the wilderness, and one home's enough for me."

"Don't be so overbearing," he answered. "There's a great opportunity right now to get land for nothing that in a few years will be worth as much or more than this here. I'm ready

British Expert Says Conditions Gradually Returning To Normal

New York.—Reginald McKenna, former chancellor of the British exchequer, who has been making a three-weeks' study of the commercial and economic situation in America, declared in a statement "that the financial horizon seems clear, and thought it will probably be some considerable time before normal conditions are restored. I am inclined to say that the corner is turned."

"I would like to add, however," Mr. McKenna said, "that it is no time for speculation. Recovery is bound to be slow, with the exception of a period of moderate fluctuation, though I hope, and expect, that the tendency will be an improving one."

"I find," Mr. McKenna continued, "that very considerable interest is taken in the question of international debts between governments. This is a subject on which I could only venture to speak from the British point of view. We are large creditors, and in relation to the United States, we are also debtors. As a debtor, I have nothing to say except that Britain pays her debts. On the other hand, speaking as a creditor, my opinion is that Britain would be selfishly wise having regard only to her industrial and economic position, to remit the obligations due to her."

"If I dared to tread on dangerous ground for a moment it would be to say that the influence of the United States is indispensable in the councils of the world. You are already tied to Europe and the Far East, by the bonds of trade, and the responsibilities which arise from this relationship cannot be ignored without great loss to the world and an unfavorable reaction upon yourselves. In England, the calling of the conference by President Harding is most warmly welcomed, not merely for the sake of the results which it is hoped may be achieved, but it is the first time that a great and powerful government has assumed the responsibility of bringing together the prime ministers of other nations to confer upon the means of securing lasting conditions of peace. Peace and industry are the call of the hour, and the world at the present time, and the world looks to the United States to lead the way."

HEART WOULD BEAT LIKE A TRIP HAMMER

Heart trouble has of late years become very prevalent. Sometimes a pain catches you in the region of the heart, now and then your heart skips beats, palpitates, throbs, or beats with such rapidity and violence you think it is going to burst.

You have weak and dizzy spells, sinking sensations, are nervous, irritable and depressed, and if you attempt to walk upstairs or any distance you get all out of breath.

We know of no remedy that will do so much to make the heart regain strength and vigor, regulate its beat, and restore it to a healthy normal condition as will

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS
Mrs. Chadwick, Delhi, Ont., writes: "I had palpitation of the heart, and the least exertion, such as going upstairs or up a hill, my heart would beat like a trip hammer and at times I was dizzy-headed and had a sinking sensation as if my time were near."

A friend suggested I try Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, so I procured three boxes, and by the time the first one was used I began to improve. In all I took six boxes, and now although in my 46th year I feel like a young girl; no dizziness or heart-thumping, and can walk miles without fatigue. At time of purchase I weighed 120 lbs., now I weigh 150."

Many British Flags At U.S. Convention

Exports Who Met Admiral Beatty Greeted With Cheers

Ottawa.—That British flags were being carried and cheered by delegates to the convention of the American Legion in Kansas City, was stated in a message received at Great War Veterans' Association headquarters here from N. B. Maxwell, Division president and Vice C. S. Perkins, fraternal delegates representing Canadian ex-servicemen at the convention. Mr. Maxwell, in his message, declared the spirit of the gathering "would prove to be one more step towards a better understanding between the British and American people."

When the contingent of Britishers marched to meet Admiral Beatty, they were everywhere cheered and no untoward remarks were heard as they escorted the famous admiral through the streets.

"Admiral Beatty had made a splendid impression," Mr. Maxwell wired. "Enemies of Britain in the United States are dismayed at the unanimity of public opinion which acclaims this British star as the foremost hero of sea warfare during the present century."

Information Wanted On Soviet Offer

Note Mentions Assuming of Imperial State Debts Only

London.—Great Britain, it was indicated in authoritative quarters, will reply to the recent note of M. Chitchev, foreign minister of Soviet Russia, offering conditionally to assume the debts of old Russia up to 1914, by the dispatch of a note pointing out the Soviet's offer mentions only the Imperial state debts, which are but a part of the Russian total.

It will also set forth that the conference to establish peace desired by the Moscow Government would be possible only after an allied, or preferably an international consensus, or opinion was obtained regarding the policy that was to be pursued toward Russia's indebtedness.

First Lord of British Admiralty Not Looking For Failure

New York.—Confidence that much more would come out of the Washington conference on the limitation of armaments, was expressed by delegates from Great Britain, Italy and China, on their arrival here on the Olympic.

Lord Lee of Fareham, First Lord of the British Admiralty, in a formal statement said: "So far as I am concerned, and here I speak not only as the responsible head of the British Admiralty, but as one of the official delegates, I come in a spirit of quiet confidence that the results of this conference will be such as to amply justify President Harding's far-seeing initiative, and, personally, I am not prepared even to contemplate the possibility of failure. To do so would be to assume that the world was afflicted with an incurable insanity and could not be restrained from suicide."

New York.—The trade of the United States with Canada "might now be waving a red flag," declared the New York Herald in an editorial discussing the fact that the value of United States' exports to Canada is decreasing much more rapidly than that of United States' imports from the Dominion.

The Herald suggests in this connection the advisability of extending larger credits to Canada.

"Canadian values are not very far apart from our own," the paper says. "If, therefore, we lose two dollars of sales to Canada for every dollar of sales that Canada loses to us, we are moving decidedly in the wrong direction."

The paper declares that this is what the United States has been doing, quoting figures to show that for every dollar that Canada's exports to the United States have gone down in the last year, United States' exports to Canada have gone down two dollars and a quarter.

"And Canada, let us not forget, has become our second biggest and best customer in the world," continues the Herald. "With our Canadian exports of approximately a billion dollars a year, only the United Kingdom surpassed Canada in the volume and value of goods bought from us. The whole of South America with Mexico, Central America and the West Indies thrown in, did not equal Canada as a buyer in the markets of the United States. Now the relative swing is heavily against us."

Extensive possibilities remedies, the Herald declares. "We have plastered loans all over other countries which never can be normal customers of ours while we have been giving with credits to the one country destined naturally to be our very best customer."

PAINS SO BAD STAYED IN BED

Young Mrs. Beecroft Had Miserable Time Until She Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Hamilton, Ont.—"I have suffered for three years from a female trouble and consequent weakness, pain and irregularity which kept me in bed four or five days each month. I nearly went crazy with pains in my back, and for about a week at a time I could not do my work. I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised in the Hamilton Spectator and I took it. Now I have no pain and am quite regular unless I overwork or stay out late from early morning until late at night. I keep this account for my enormous demand for it from coast to coast. If you are troubled with any ailment peculiar to women why don't you try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound? It is made from native roots and herbs and contains no narcotics or harmful drugs. For special advice women are asked to write the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. The result of forty years experience is at your service."

Women of Canada

"I ask from all the people of Canada an earnest review of the real issue before Canada today. I ask from men and women a calm, thoughtful consideration of serious public questions; and, so far as I am concerned myself, I ask not favors but fairness."—ARTHUR MEIGHEN.

WOMEN OF CANADA, the coming General Election will be one of the most momentous in Canadian history, and Arthur Meighen asks YOU to give the issue fair, unbiased consideration.

Women and men alike are called upon to decide whether political, industrial and economic stability is to be replaced by class rule, political and industrial chaos and possible economic bankruptcy.

The facts are clear, and every Canadian woman will do her own thinking. She will not be misled by others. She will not blindly follow family political precedent, neither will she be carried away by the false theories or empty "isms" of theorists and extremists. Every woman will arrive at a personal decision by the application of practical common sense.

The great issue is the Tariff and here are briefly the facts.

The present Canadian Tariff, so far as it affects the necessities of life, is a very moderate one. It is simply a tariff maintained to keep Canadian factories in Canada, employing a steadily increasing volume of Canadian labor and developing Canadian resources.

Meighen stands firm for the continuance of a reasonable tariff. It is now even more imperative than in the past. All other important countries are retaining or increasing their tariffs in order that they may hold their home markets for their own people.

Under Cerraz's Free Trade policy Canada would be swamped with foreign goods, principally from the United States. Canadian industry would be ruined, thousands of men and women would be out of work with all the hardships to themselves and their children that must result. The farmer's great home market would be seriously affected, taxes would be increased, and Canadian working men would have to go to the United States for employment.

While King's Tariff policy is wobbly it nevertheless tends toward the destruction of the Tariff and would bring with it practically the same results.

MEIGHEN'S POLICY EVERYBODY KNOWS. It is the only means whereby confidence may be maintained and employment given to all classes of the people.

The foregoing is a plain statement of logical conclusions arrived at from the facts. Think the matter over carefully "without favor but with fairness".

Make your own decision, stand by it unmoved and be sure to exercise your vote.

Grading of Hogs to Be Altered

Compulsory grading of hogs by official graders appointed by the government, was the feature of the first day of the conference being held at Ottawa last week to consider the improvement of the hog industry, and with particular reference to developing the bacon hog market. This information came by special wire to The Bulletin Wednesday night from Ottawa.

After several meetings among the breeders' associations, the packers, government officials and others, the Dominion Department of agriculture finally invited representatives of all the packing houses, of the breeders' associations of the provincial and federal departments of agriculture and other interested organizations to meet at Ottawa to consider the problem from all angles.

Since the Canadian bacon had acquired such name and fame for itself on the British market, those specially interested in the industry have for some time felt that a premium on the bacon type of hogs should be made, or that the grading of hogs should be altered and hogs sold according to type and quality rather than to a strict adherence to a weight grade. So long as there were no hogs for the export trade, or very few, the packers have felt justified in grading according to weight, for the light handy-weight hogs were in good demand for the local market.

The convention arrived early at a place where the grading of hogs at all abattoirs and public stock yards and a few other central points to be determined later by the department of agriculture was established as a principle. The grading is to be done by officials working under the Livestocks Products act.

The meeting adopted the resolution in favor of compulsory grading at those central points, this to be carried into effect as soon as practicable.

The Knicker Suit For Sports Wear

By Marie Belmont.

Perhaps one of the most practical creations for outdoor sports is the knicker suit. This model is cut from a brown mixture tweed which is enlivened with a narrow plain line of orange. The coat is elaborated with four large patch pockets that will be appreciated by those who wander alone. Leather buttons accentuate its sportsmanlike appearance, while the belt is slipped through a leather covered buckle. An orange felt hat trimmed with a band of brown ribbon gives a colorful touch to the costume. The brown wool stockings reveal slashes of orange in their fancy tops.

The Block Signals Are Working—

In some respects, human experience is like railroading.

Every moment of the business and social day the block signals are giving right of way to keenness and alertness—while the slow and the heavy must wait on the sidetrack for their chance to move forward.

The ability to "go through" and to "get there" depends much on the poise of body, brain and nerves that comes with correct diet and proper nourishment.

That's why so many choose Grape-Nuts for breakfast and lunch. Served with cream or milk it is completely nourishing, partly pre-digested, and it supplies the vital mineral salts so necessary to full nutrition.

Grape-Nuts has a rich, delightful flavor, is ready to serve on the instant—and is distinctly the food for mental and physical alertness and speed. At all grocers.

Is Your Name on the List?

With regard to the coming election, revising officers will have their lists printed and four days prior to election day will deliver 20 copies to each candidate.

In rural or township polls a registrar makes a list of all persons qualified. Up to Nov. 18 he can add names from other lists, names handed to him, or names which he secures himself. Rural Registrars are supposed to personally see that every proper name is on the lists. Any person in rural localities who, on Election Day, finds his name is not on the list may vote in the Division in which he lives by being vouched for by any person whose name does appear on the lists.
